

PET WELLNESS MOBILE VETERINARY CLINIC PRICE LIST

www.wellness-vet.com

Rabies 1-year or 3-year vaccine $20

DAPPV vaccine. Distemper-Adenovirus-Parainfluenza-Parvovirus $22

Leptospirosis vaccine $8 if with DAPPV; $20 alone.

Bordetella (kennel cough) vaccine. $24

Lyme disease vaccine $26

Canine Influenza (CIV) bivalent vaccine. $32

FVRCP (HCP) vaccine: Herpesvirus type 1, Calicivirus, Panleukopenia. $20

Feline leukemia (FeLv) vaccine: $22

FeLV + FIV blood test $32

Heartworm blood test $25

Multi-deworming Praziquantel+pyrantel.

Cats: $10 Dogs: <50 lb $14

50-100 lb $22 >100 lb $28

Basic deworming (pyrantel) Cats $6; Dogs $10

Vet exam fee Required for extended time with vet or non-preventive prescription medication (for skin, ear, etc.) $25

Nail Trim cats $10; Dogs $16 simple or $20 with extra restraint

Microchip permanent ID with lifetime pet recovery registration $25

Fecal exam $28

MEDICATIONS: We have several excellent prescription product options for:

-Heartworm and intestinal worm prevention

-Flea and Tick prevention

Our prices are very competitive.

All prevention products prescribed by our veterinarian can be refilled at our online store at www.wellness-vet.com

The Core (essential) vaccinations for all dogs are rabies and DAPPV. We also strongly recommend that dogs are vaccinated annually against leptospirosis. Distemper, parvovirus and leptospirosis are potentially deadly diseases common in this area.

Other dog vaccinations depend on lifestyle or requirements of boarding kennels, groomers or daycares.

We strongly recommend periodic deworming against intestinal worms; monthly heartworm prevention (which includes intestinal deworming); and prescription flea + tick medications year round.

The Core (essential) vaccinations for all cats are rabies and FVRCP. Cats that go outdoors should also get the FeLV vaccine.

We strongly recommend periodic deworming and prescription flea + tick medications year round. Ask us about the NEW excellent combination product Revolution Plus for Cats!,
